Dear Pragati Chandra,

Congratulations on taking the first step towards becoming an OxiElite. To be aware is monumental to improve. Scroll down to find a detailed report on how big is your carbon footprint, oxygen contribution and detailed suggestion on how to decrease the former and improve the latter.

the environmental changes caused by our massive carbon footprints have crippled the balance of nature. This has been ignored too long. Action is necessary to get results. In the words of Greta Thunberg-"I don't want your hope. I don't want you to be hopeful. I want you to panic... and act as if the house was on fire."

Work on becoming a true OxiLite to receive the many badges and honors that we offer and motivate your friends to do the same.

Spread oxygen not carbon.

SOME SUGGESTIONS FOR YOU:-

42% of your carbon contribution is due to vehicles. Some ways to decrease this are-

- Keep up to date on vehicle maintenance and try to switch to electric cars.
- Your city has metro and E-bike services available. Try to use these to travel.

35% of your carbon contribution is due to electronics. Some ways to reduce this are-

- Switch to LED lights
- Purchase REC's(Renewable Energy Certificates)

Your Oxygen contribution is very poor compared to our other users. Try to plant more CAM-cycliplants such as aloe vera, Tulsi, Money Plant(these are supported by the weather in your city). Mumbai has many NGO's (such as Green Yatra) that you can join.
